Recorder Hawkins issued the following marriage licenses the past week:

Edward Hasen of Farmington and Clara Amesen of Des Arc.

Albert A. Kuhn of Ironton and Susan Emily Johnson of Middlebrook.

The REGISTER this week prints the announcement of Dr. G. W. Farrar as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative of Iron County. In former years the Dr. has filled this office and made an intelligent and faithful legislator. He promises that should he again be chosen he will give his duties his most careful and conscientious attention.

J. W. Lovelace of Des Arc this week announces as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Treasurer of Iron County. Mr. Lovelace is no stranger to the people of Iron County, having served them four years as Assessor. He promises that should he be nominated and elected Treasurer he will at all times give the office his very best attention and try to prove a faithful and competent official.

In this week's REGISTER appears the announcement of Wm. H. Blue, Jr., as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Iron County. During his father's term as sheriff the past four years this young man has served as deputy and has at all times proven a fearless, faithful and competent official. Should he be nominated and elected there is no doubt that he would most satisfactorily discharge his duties.

On Monday last Wm. King of Ironton filed suit in the circuit court here against the Sligo Furnace Company, asking damages to the amount of $17,200 for timber which the plaintiff alleges that the defendant company has caused to be cut and carried away from land belonging to plaintiff in the west end of Iron County. Ernest A. Green, of St. Louis, is Mr. King's attorney. The matter will come up at the April term of circuit court.

Preparations for actual mining at Silver Mines are progressing rapidly, considering the weather. They are at work cleaning out the drift that opens up the shaft and repairing the houses and building more for the men they expect to employ. Tungsten is a good price now and there seem to be plenty of it in the rock at that place and it is probable that they will put a large force of men to work on the proposition as soon as spring opens up.—Fredericktown Tribune.

The local colored population doesn't seem to think that the colored brother got a square deal at the hands of the Republican bosses in St. Louis last Tuesday when the segregation election was held. The proposition carried by a very large majority, the big Republican wards, except the negro wards, voting for the ordinances almost solidly. Some day the colored brother will grow wise to the fact that the great love the Republican has for him is most in evidence about voting time.

MARRIED—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Middlebrook, Mo., on Sunday evening, March 5, 1916, Mr. Albert A. Kuhn and Miss Susan E. Johnson, Rev. E. S. Blankemeier officiating. The bride is the daughter of my old friend, Judge Warren O. Johnson, and is a charming young lady. The groom is one of the Valley's most industrious and enterprising young men. The REGISTER extends its felicitations, with a prayer for a future filled with blessings to them.

We have a very interesting letter from Mr. Arthur Huff, who has been at Rochester, Minnesota, the past month, where he underwent a surgical operation. Arthur writes most cheerfully and encouragingly and hopes to be back home in the course of the next ten days, "bigger, better than ever." Mr. H. says that Rochester, a town of 10,000 people, is one great big sanitarium—patients, nurses and physicians. The arrivals who come every day average more than a hundred. And they come from every nation and clime.

Two men, representing themselves to be detectives, met M. S. Hogue of Holcomb, at Ninth and Olive streets, St. Louis, one night last week, warned him against bandits, pickpockets and swindlers and offered to escort him to Union station. The men took Hogue to Rosedale Station on an Olive-Delmar car. After walking a short distance from the station, they held him up with a revolver and took $5. They ran and Hogue told his troubles to a policeman, who directed him to Union station. He said the robbers overlooked a large sum of money and his railroad ticket, which were in a secret pocket.—Dunklin Democrat.

The Republicans of Iron County held a mass meeting at the courthouse Saturday afternoon to select delegates to the Congressional convention at DeSoto, April 25th, and to the State convention to be held at Excelsior Springs. The first named chose two delegates from this congressional district to the national convention and the State convention names four delegates at large from the state. The delegates named to the DeSoto convention are H. P. Harrison, Fred Amesen, Des Arc, R. E. Rudy, J. C. Forshee, Ironton, G. B. Phillips, Bellevue, Fred Cureton, Bixby. Those named to the state convention: J. C. Forshee, J. L. Baldwin, W. N. Tims. Mr. O. W. Ramsey, candidate for congress, addressed the meeting.

In the announcement column of this issue you will find the name of Dr. J. H. Martin of Edge Hill, Mo., as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative of Reynolds County. Dr. Martin is well known to many of our citizens in the north end of the county and it is through their urging him to make the race that he is doing so. Dr. Martin has been a resident of this county for a year or more, having come here from Iron County. He represented Iron County in the Legislature from 1911 to 1914, having been elected two terms. His record is open to all. While we are not acquainted with Dr. Martin, yet, should he be elected, we believe that he will discharge the duties of his office with credit to himself and constituents. He asks you to consider his claims on August 1st.—Ellington Press.

The entertainment given at the Academy of Music by the Seniors of the Ironton High School last Friday evening was as good an amateur presentation as I ever attended. The play, "The Sweet Girl Graduates," deserved the plaudits it called forth from an unusually large audience. It went through without a lapse or halt, from start to finish, and I was not a little surprised at the manner in which the various characters assumed were delineated. It is one thing to mouth a text and another to "hold the mirror up to nature." I congratulate all who trod the boards for a brief space that night. Miss Irene Marshall gave us a delightful violin solo, and the piano duet by Misses Anderson and Gross was heard by all with pleasure. The orchestra, under direction of Mr. C. F. Hanson, filled the interstices with several selections. The receipts of the evening footed up to about $68.

Cape Girardeau Republican: "J. E. Franklin, formerly the king bee of newly and self-made millionaire bankers of Missouri, filed an answer in Common Pleas Court this afternoon to a suit brought against him by the Hodiament bank of St. Louis for $5000 and interest accruing and to be compounded since the making of a note December 30, 1913. For answer Franklin says that the Hodiament bank was one of several creditors who agreed to the appointment of a creditors' committee which should take his property of all sorts and divide it equally among the creditors. He says that it was further agreed that none of the creditors should bring suit or otherwise attempt to profit by individual action, such as the bank takes in its suit. The note for $5000 was given by the Franklin Development Company to itself originally and then endorsed to Franklin personally. Then it was sold to the bank. The interest, at 8 per cent, was never paid. The Development Company owned the large acreage in Pemiscot county about which much has been said and done in litigation the last year or two. The bank brought suit at Caruthersville and attached the land because Franklin was a non-resident of the state. The case was then brought to the Cape Girardeau court on a change of venue."

B. N. Brown.

Last Sunday night it was my good fortune to attend a Dramatic and Musical entertainment at Arcadia College. The play was "Ingomar, the Barbarian," and excellently indeed was it rendered by the young pupils of the institution. The large audience, by frequent bursts of applause, expressed their interest and pleasure. The musical numbers were especially entertaining to the writer, and were given with the taste and perfectness of execution peculiar to this school. I enjoyed every moment of the proceedings, and heaved a sigh of regret when the curtain went finally down. Follows here the program: Anvil Chorus. Verdi.....Three Planos

Drama: "Ingomar, the Barbarian." Scene I—The Rejected Suitor. Fantaisie sur "Faust." Gounod.....Two Planos. Scene II—Parthenia as Hostage. "Nachtreich." Eupold.....Piano Solo. Scene III—Savage Conquest. "Tarentella" Menior-Crosse.....Two Planos. Scene IV—"Two Souls With But a Single Thought." "Anitra's Dance." Grieg. Piano Duet. The evening closed with a few words from Father Wernert, in his usual happy manner, and we all departed gratified in the two hours' entertainment given, with thanks to those who had for a brief season transported us from everyday life into the realms of romance and music.

A Friendly Tip.

I see where Mr. R. C. Marks advertises different varieties of plants for sale. Mr. Marks likely does not know that a state law requires him to have his stock inspected by the state entomologist, and that he is only allowed to sell or offer for sale any nursery stock with that officer's permission.

There is quite a respectable fine for disobeying this law, which was passed to prevent the spread of dangerous diseases and insect pests, and it behooves every one to look out.—"Nuf Sed."

School Notes.

The Senior Play was well patronized and was a success in every way; the receipts being $58.55. Teachers and students of the school wish to express their most sincere thanks to the public for its liberal support, and to Mr. Ake, Mr. Hanson, Mrs. Curtis, Mr. Palmer, and Miss Marshall, for the excellent music given in connection with the play.

The Primary Program given before the Mothers' and Patrons' Club last Wednesday was appreciated by every one present.

Students of the High School displayed excellent school spirit by the vigorous efforts put forth to sell tickets for the play.

Many students were quite successful as shown by the advance sale which amounted to $31.45. Virginia Collins sold 50 adult, and 3 children's tickets. The receipts of her sale amounted to $12.95.

The Junior Class received the half holiday Friday for the best attendance and no tardies. The class spent the afternoon in decorating the Hall for the Senior play. The High School students wish to express their appreciation of the kindly attitude towards the High School as shown by the citizens in the mass meeting held at the courthouse Monday, February 25th.

If the citizens of Ironton see fit to build a separate High School we will do every thing in our power to grasp the great opportunities offered us.

The students of Miss Vaughn's room presented the school with a beautiful flag. The Sophomore boys put up a flag pole and the flag is raised every morning and taken down in the evening. To us, as American citizens, there is nothing more beautiful than our own flag.

Miss Naomi Signer of Arcadia is here this week on a visit with her brother, Prof. Signer and wife.—Bismarck Gazette.

Good League service Mission Study Class finished their first book and on the evening of February 27 held a very interesting service at Union, giving a review of missionary work in Africa, placing emphasis, of course, upon our own mission among the Batatas at Wembo Niam, whose chief (also Wembo Niam) is the proud ruler of 300,000 people living principally in 74 cities.

We miss Judge Keith, who is away; but Dr. Smith has been Sunday School Superintendent for so many years that it is no trouble for him to fill the place. A card from Arthur Huff says he is getting along finely. Of course he is badly missed also, for he sets things to rights and keeps them going.

All the friends of Rev. L. F. Aspley will be glad to know that he has passed the winter in good health. He is feeble, to be sure, nevertheless his appetite is good and he is otherwise well. March 12th will be his 85th birthday anniversary.
